

CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY OF APPLIED SCIENCES MAINZ

Catholic University of Applied Sciences Mainz (CUAS Mainz), is a state-recognised university with faculties for Social Work and Social Sciences, Practical Theology, Health Care and Nursing. The responsible body is the Gemeinnützige Gesellschaft zur Förderung von Wissenschaft und Bildung mbH of the (arch) dioceses of Cologne, Limburg, Mainz, Speyer and Trier.

The core remits of the university include application-related tuition, research and further education. Catholic University of Applied Sciences Mainz qualifies its graduates to become technically competent and socially responsible experts and managers.

Studying at the CUAS Mainz is not bound to a denomination. Exceptions are the study programmes Practical Theology and the double degree programme Social Work and Practical Theology, which require the membership in the Catholic Church.

CENTER FOR MEDIA LITERACY OF THE GERMAN BISHOPS' CONFERENCE AT CUAS MAINZ

The Church is active in many ways in the field of media education, for example by providing information, education and advisory services. A central objective of the Center for Media Literacy is to pool these services of the Church to impart media competence and to represent these services in cooperation with partners within and outside the Church.

THE RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE CENTER FOR MEDIA LITERACY INCLUDE IN PARTICULAR:

- The pooling of media educational offers of dioceses, associations, congregations and educational institutions in order to create an overview of the Catholic Church's services and opportunities with regard to media education.
- Networking with church and non-church institutions and actors in the various fields of education in order to better use the existing resources of church media literacy teaching.
- The participation in congresses and conferences as well as the clarification of points of view of church media pedagogy by subject-specific papers and tools.
- The realisation of advanced trainings, conferences and projects for the mediation of media competence with selected cooperation partners.

5 REASONS TO STUDY AT CUAS MAINZ!

- Education related to practice on a broad scientific basis, which is strengthened by internships and practical study semesters.
- Excellent contacts between teachers and students owing to the manageable size of the university (approx. 1400 students).
- The possibility for holistic personality development through a range of offers for the growth of social, ethical, religious and artistic skills.
- Networking of teaching and practice through cooperation projects with health care and social organisations as well as pastoral institutions.
- A vital university community that promotes exchange between all members of the university.

SOCIAL WORK AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

Do you enjoy working with people of different origins and different ages? Do you want to support people in difficult situations as well as promote their development?

The course of studies in the social sciences prepares you for your work with and for such people: as a social worker or social pedagogue (B.A. in Social Work), you can find fulfilment working in different social fields.

The subsequent Master degree course (M.A. in Social Work) qualifies students especially for individual assistance.

In addition, CUAS Mainz trains professionals in the fields of migration and integration, based on a wide range of social science perspectives (B.A. in Social Science).

PRACTICAL THEOLOGY

If you

- reflect on your Christian faith
- and want to share your hope
- want to work in the Church as your main occupation
- and you meet the requirements for studying at a university in Rhineland-Palatinate, then studying Practical Theology (B.A.) might be the right thing for you. Usually, it leads to the profession of parish assistant. The fulltime degree course begins in the winter semester and lasts six semesters.

The degree course includes theological disciplines, vocation-oriented spiritual development as well as human sciences and methods of professional practice.

Three internships are completed during the study programme (community / school / project).

A semester abroad is possible.
